Message from the Editors

Dear Classmates:

Our high school career has been a long four year journey; one consisting of a series of twists and turns, and one in which we have grown from timid freshmen into self-assured individuals. During our four years here there have been times when each of us has reached an intersection — a point of decision, a moment of truth. Decisions such as the courses we selected or the friends we chose to be with have affected the direction our lives have followed. Because of the many paths we have all traveled, the editors of Pioneer '81 chose "Crossroads" as the theme of our yearbook.

Unsure of which path to take, we sometimes felt alone when making decisions. Yet, along the way there were always people waiting and willing to help us. These special people include our friends, teachers, and most especially our parents for it was their love and patience which has helped guide us through a lifetime of crossroads.

We the editors of Pioneer '81 would like to extend our fondest wishes to each and every classmate; for we are all about to embark on a new journey; we will all be leaving the familiar main path to seek new destinations. Best of luck to a great class!

DEDICATION

Dear Mr. Howland,

Traditionally, the "Dedication" has been written about the person to whom the yearbook was dedicated. This year, however, we wanted to tell you directly what you have meant to us. We wrote this note as an expression of our gratitude for all you have shared with us.

Initially, your sense of humor intrigued us, but it was your sensitivity which allowed us to feel we could trust you as our friend. Your humor never became a facade, only a tool by which you taught us not to take ourselves too seriously. When you felt a point was important and of value to us, if not now, perhaps later, you revealed the sensitive man who really cared about our growth as individuals.

You have a feeling for people and an ability to communicate, a rare combination. You understood us, perhaps because you are secure within yourself, and you remember where you have been and what you have undergone. We appreciate your openess and the way you have encouraged us to be just as honest. The straight-forward manner in which you taught created a casual classroom atmosphere in which we could express our ideas without feeling intimidated. You were able to utilize the topics discussed in class to emphasize not only the academic value of literature, but its invaluable lessons for life.

As we move on, we will bring with us the useful lessons you have taught on both the academic and personal levels. We want you to know the impact that you have made on us and how thankful we are to have shared our high school experience with you.

With gratitude,
The Class of 1981

Take time to think,
It is the source of power.

Take time to work,
It is the price of success.

Take time to be friendly,
It is the road to happiness.

Take time to love and be loved,
It is privilege of the gods.

Take time to play,
It is the secret of perpetual youth.

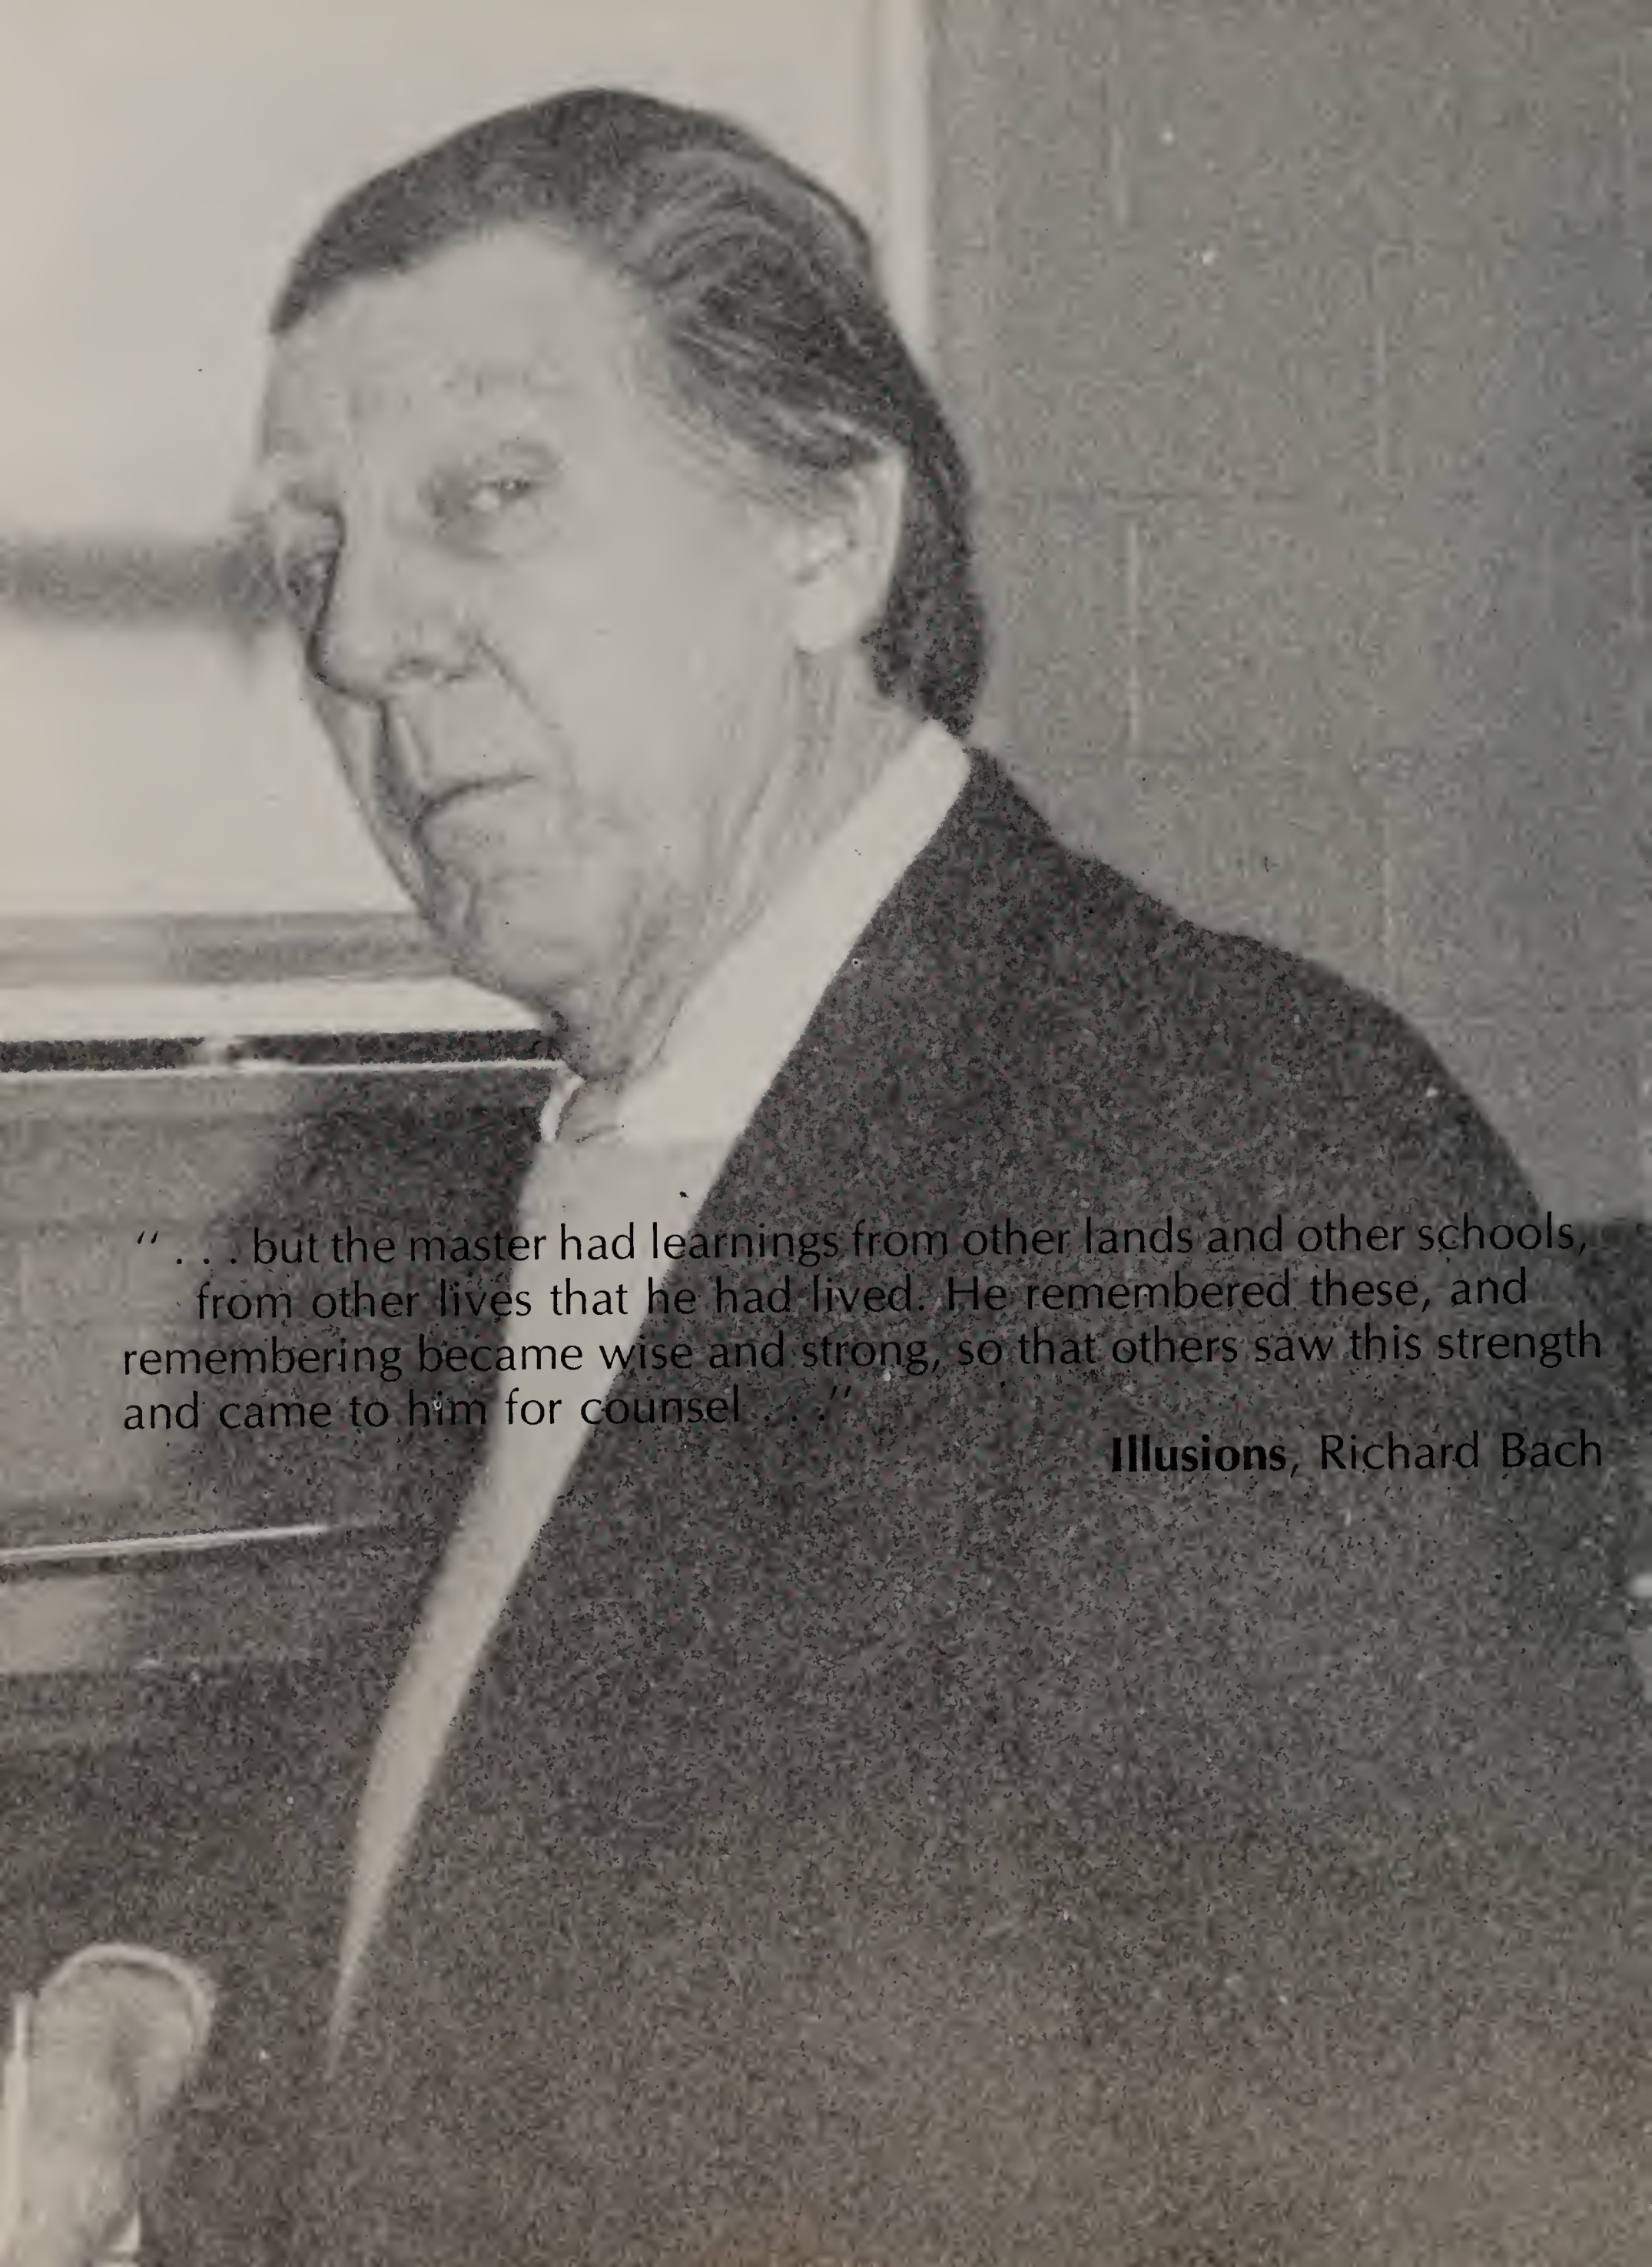

Take time to read,
It is the foundation of wisdom.

Take time to share,
Life is too short to be selfish.

Take time to laugh,
Laughter is the music of the soul.

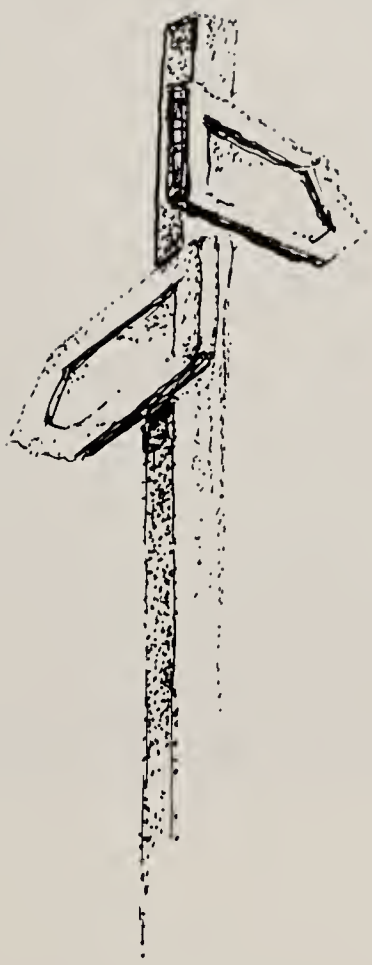

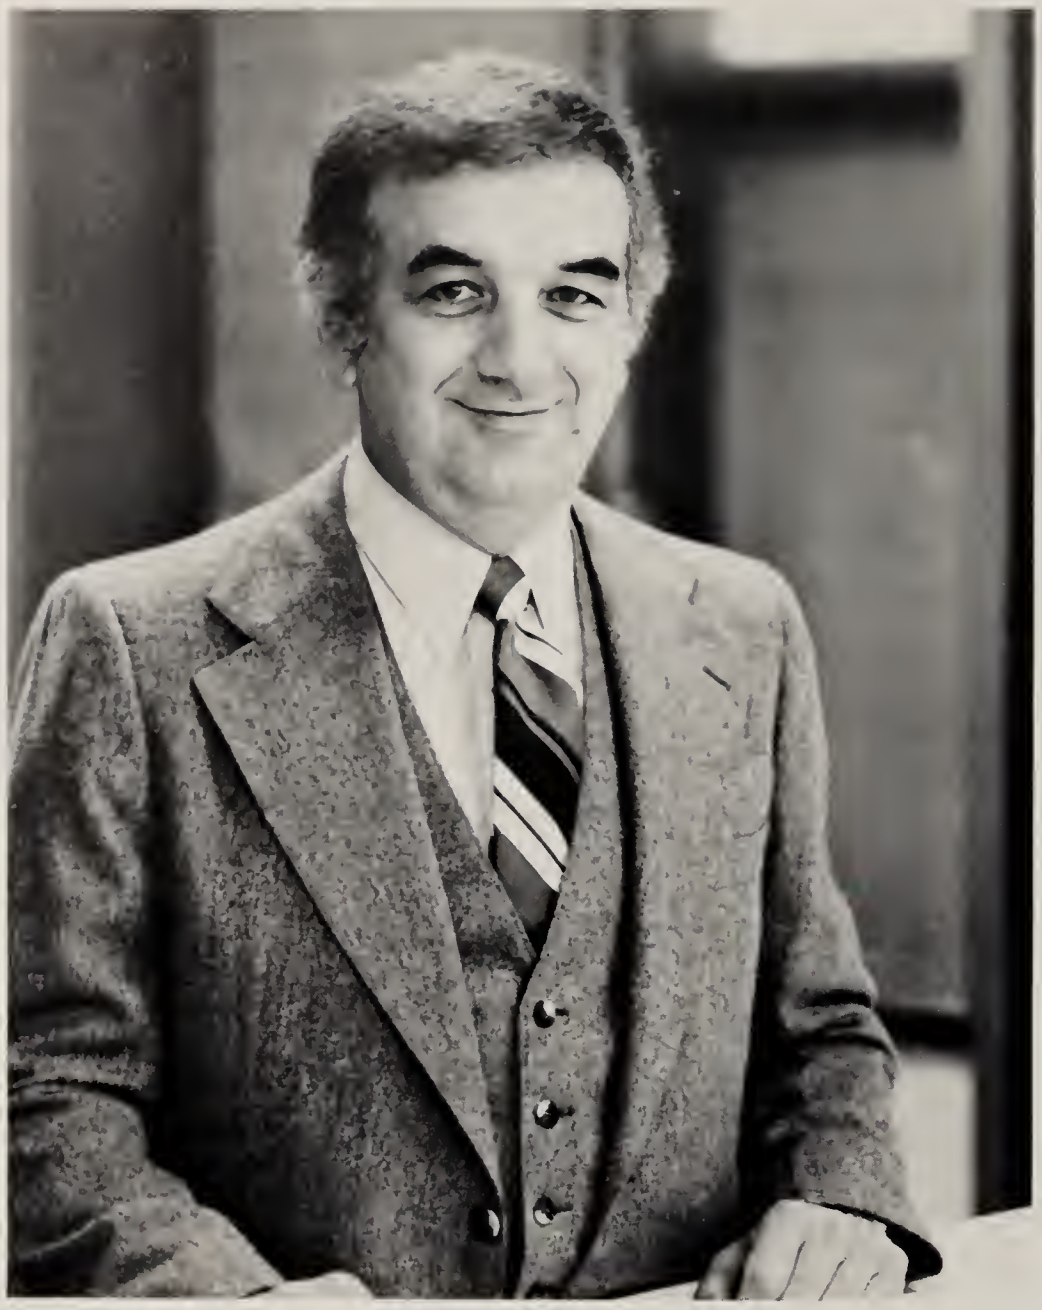

" . . . but the master had learnings from other lands and other schools, from other lives that he had lived. He remembered these, and remembering became wise and strong, so that others saw this strength and came to him for counsel . . ."

THERESA MEUSE

The author's purpose in the writing of a preface is to acknowledge all of the people who helped to make his work possible. Here in these pages we wish to recognize those individuals at R.M.H.S. whose commitments to the class of 1981 have extended beyond the academic, and to reflect upon the things we would not have achieved without their guidance.

Collectively, our advisors have devoted the largest amount of time to our class. While maintaining warm relationships with many of us, Ms. Kaman, Mrs. Messina, and Ms. Lanouette have provided those touches of experience and ingenuity needed for the success of our many activities.

As underclassmen, we learned to depend upon the Guidance Department to resolve course and schedule predicaments. This year, with their knowledge and understanding, Ms. Hart and Mr. Pacino aided us in the process of sorting through catalogues, completing applications, and filing FAF's. Despite their dedication, we still missed the presence and concern of Mr. Paskowsky, who was recovering from an unexpected illness.

During the past few years, several changes have occured within the Administration of R.M.H.S. Officially named principal in 1978, Mr. D'Orlando was ever present about the school and willing to listen, Ms. Sellers made her existence known in other ways. Her signature adorned our senior passes, her voice filled the airwaves with the names of people called to the office, the clickety-clack of her footsteps resounded through the corridors and will continue to echo for eternity. It was the enthusiasm and understanding of these two people, however, which made them more than effective leaders. They became friends.

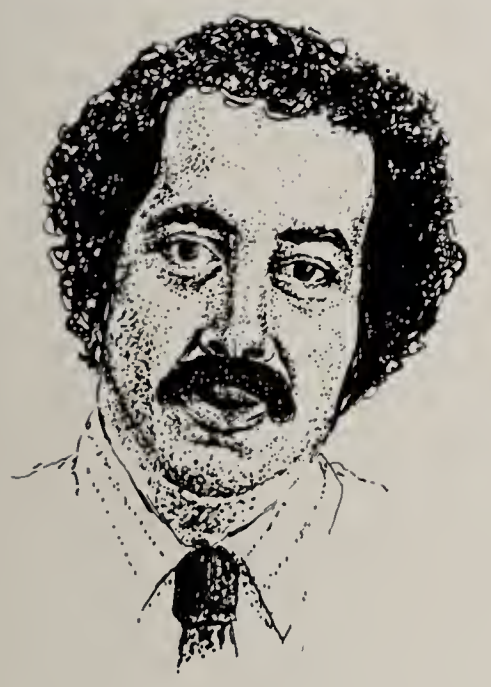

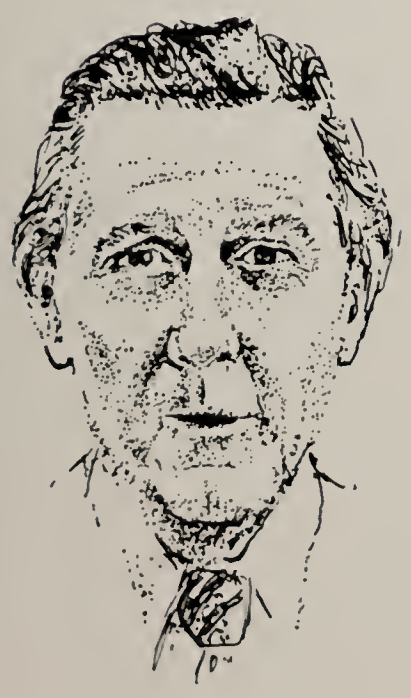

Many of our teachers have had a devotion which extended beyond the scope of day-to-day classroom routines. Although hidden in the depths of the Graphic Arts Room, Mr. Harney advanced communication around the school. Mr. Wales, the spirit of the Industrial Arts Department, directed the projects and fostered the creative pursuits of many students. Our class found in Mr. Swanson a rare combination of knowledge and vitality, along with an enthusiastic, if somewhat exaggerated, point of view. Without the time and patience of Mr. Chetwynd, this book would not now be a reality.

Finally, we would like to say good-bye to Paul Hubbard who is retiring this June after fifteen years of service to the Reading School System, nine of which were spent at R.M.H.S. While efficiently performing his tasks as head custodian, he brightened many a dull morning with his cheerful greetings and ever ready smile. We extend to him our appreciation and best wishes.

It is impossible to list the contributions of every staff member, for time has yet to reveal fully how our experiences here will influence our futures. But of one thing we are certain: we are thankful.

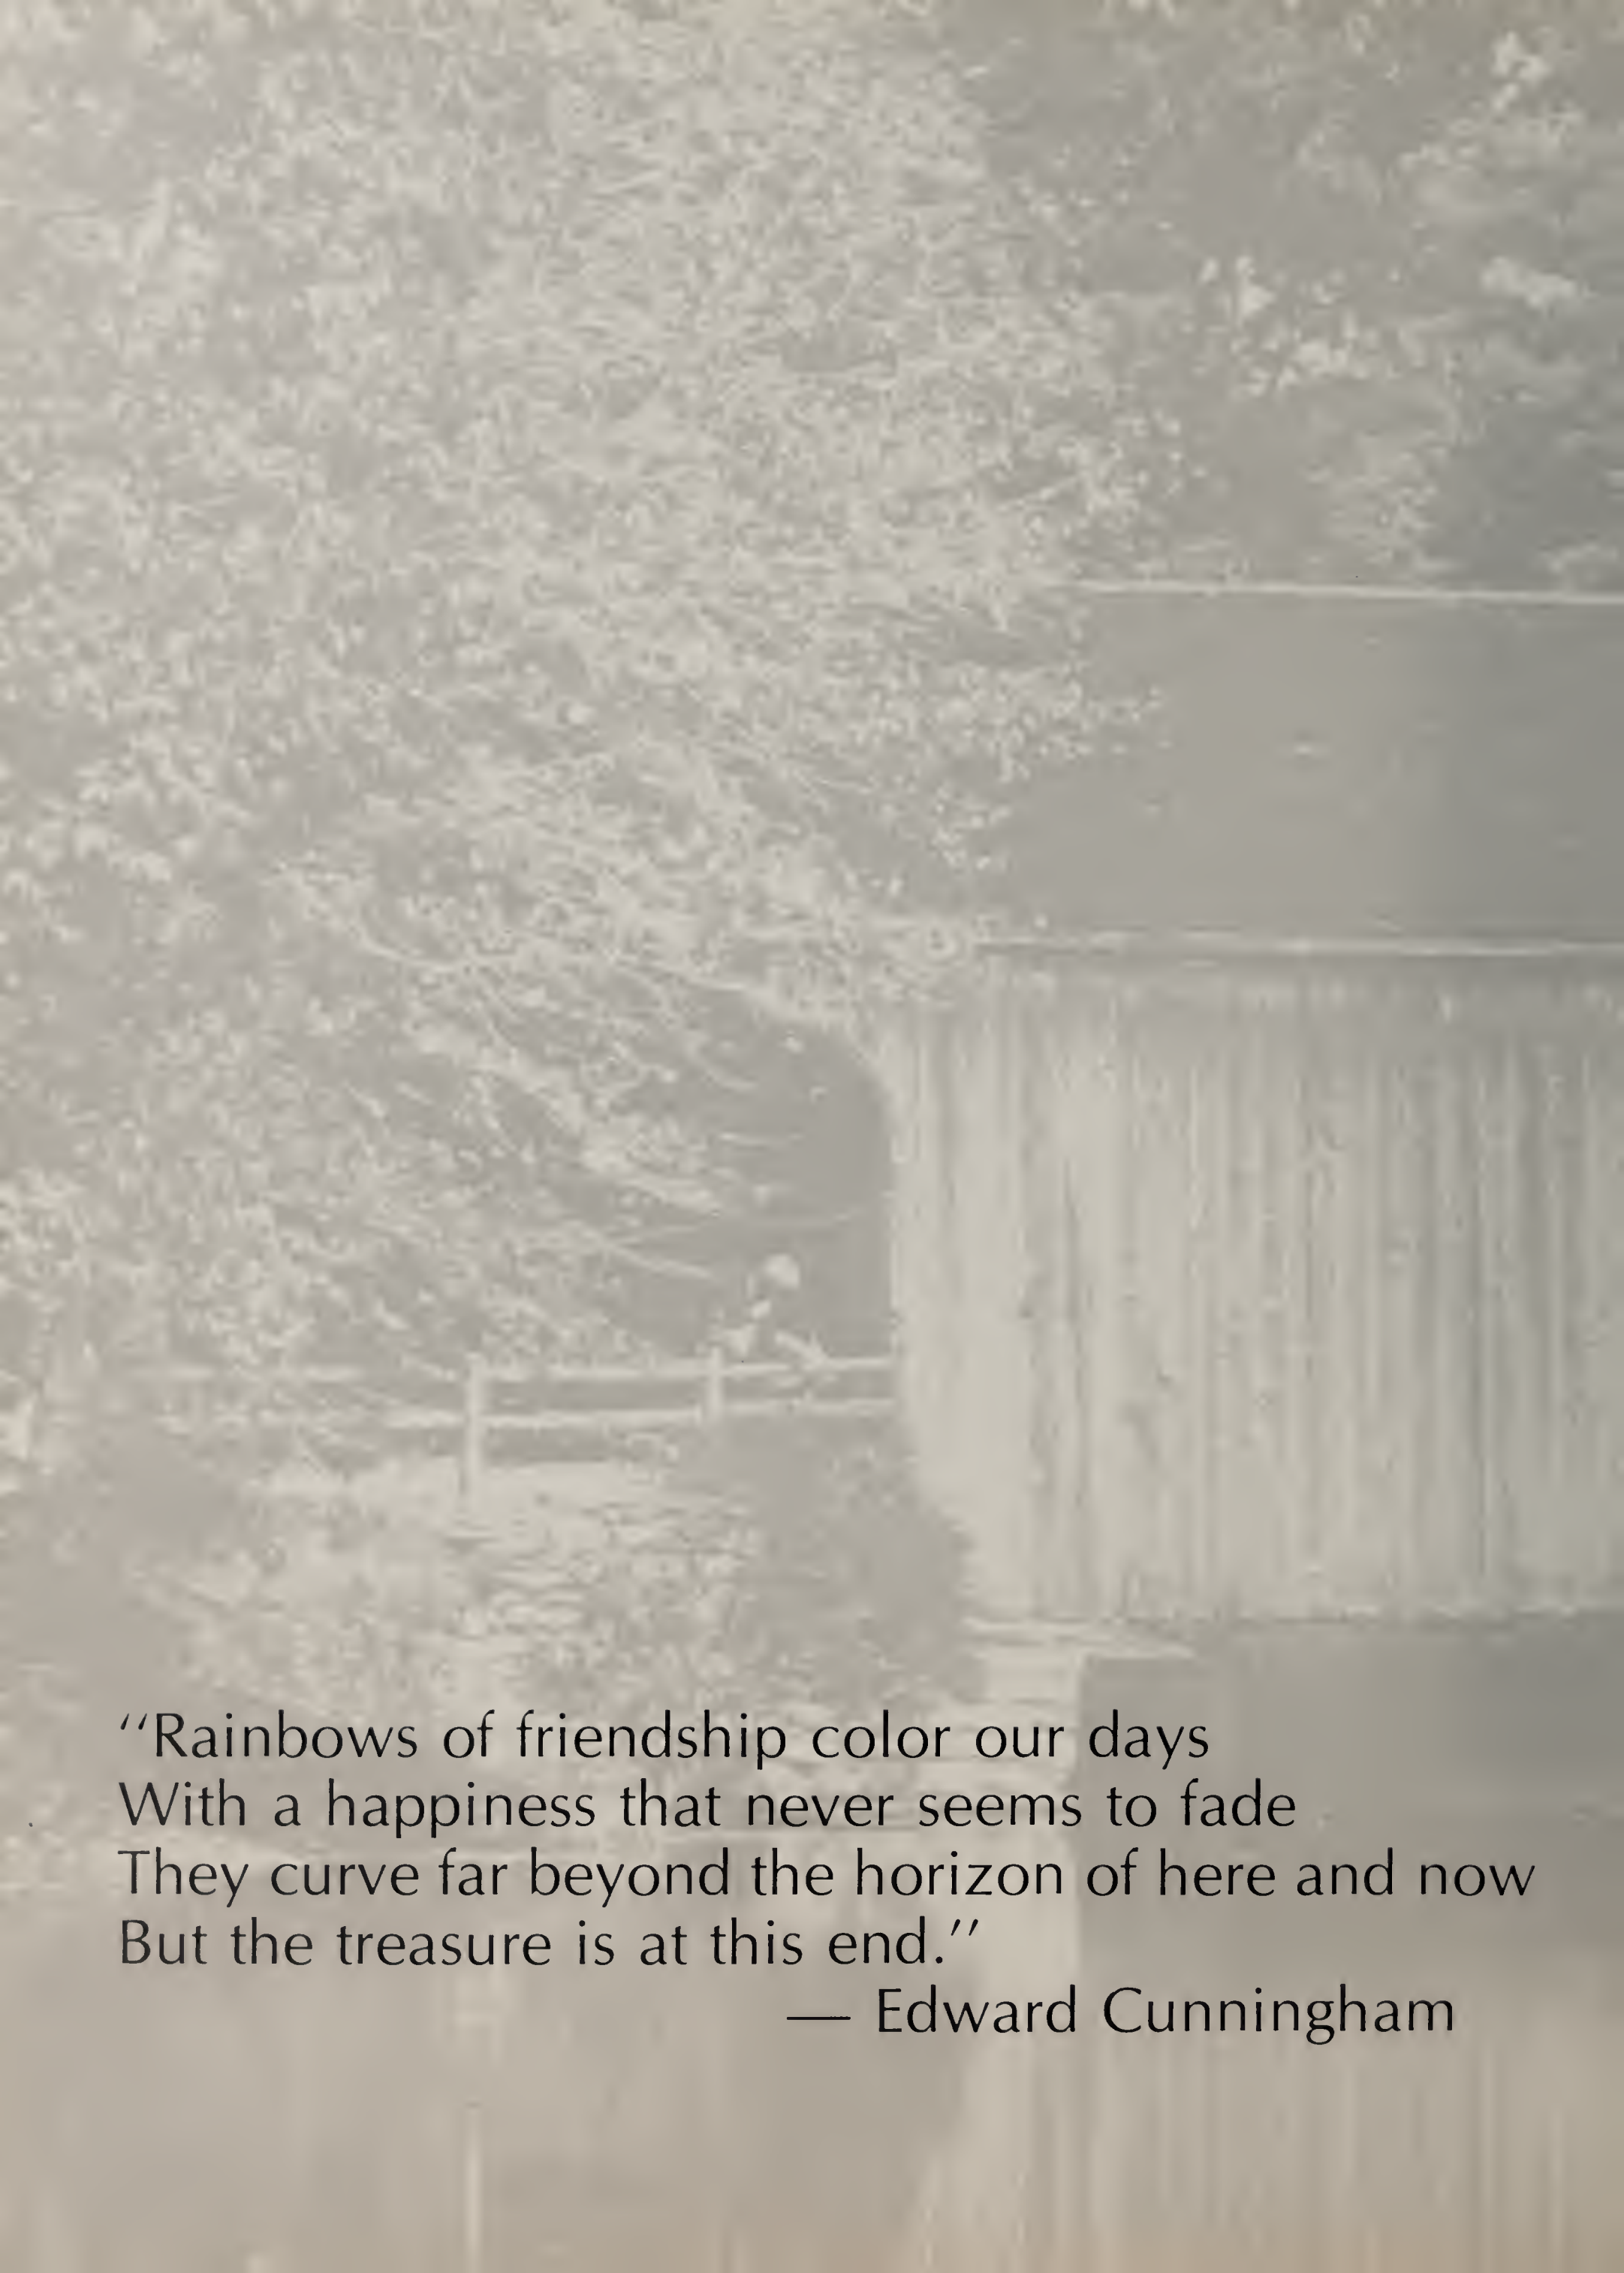

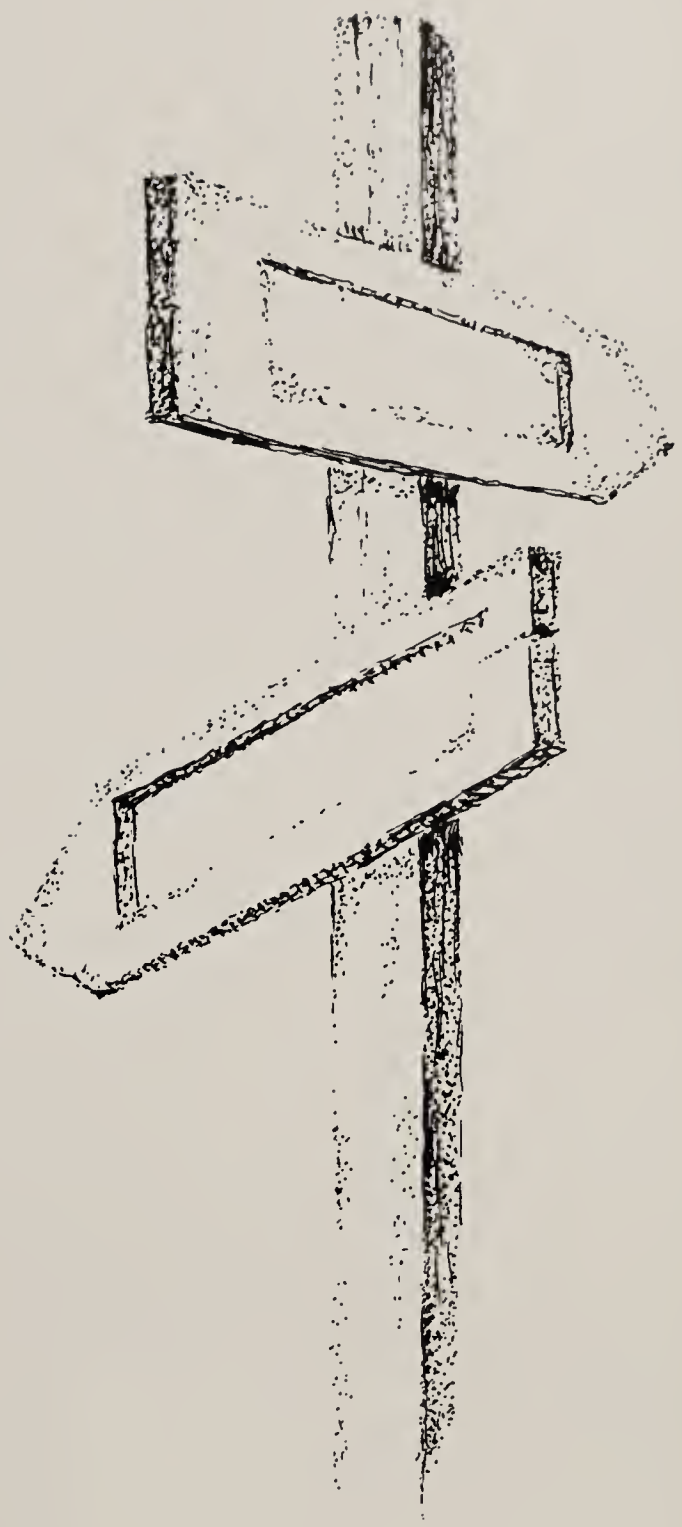

"Rainbows of friendship color our days
With a happiness that never seems to fade
They curve far beyond the horizon of here and now
But the treasure is at this end."

— Edward Cunningham

SENIOR SLIDE SHOW COMMITTEE . . . Elaine Annesse, Coordinator; Jill Dugan, Photographer; Eunice Sirianos, Photographer

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Ann Marie McCarron, Treasurer; Peter Chisholm, Secretary; Miss Lanouette, Class Advisor; Roger Mumper, Vice-President; Nancy Littlehale, President

Though most of the credit for your development as a class goes to Ms. Kaman and Mrs. Messina, I take a good deal of pride in seeing you graduate this week (not to mention relief!). Having had many of you in class and in homeroom I've seen you grow individually and as a group. Even as Freshmen, there was something different about you. You never really were shy and easily-intimidated, but seemed to fit right into the school routine and to become leaders early. Very soon the Class of '81 began making its mark — in the Drama club, in academics, in sports, in AFS, in the band . . . in detention, in the BPL, etc.

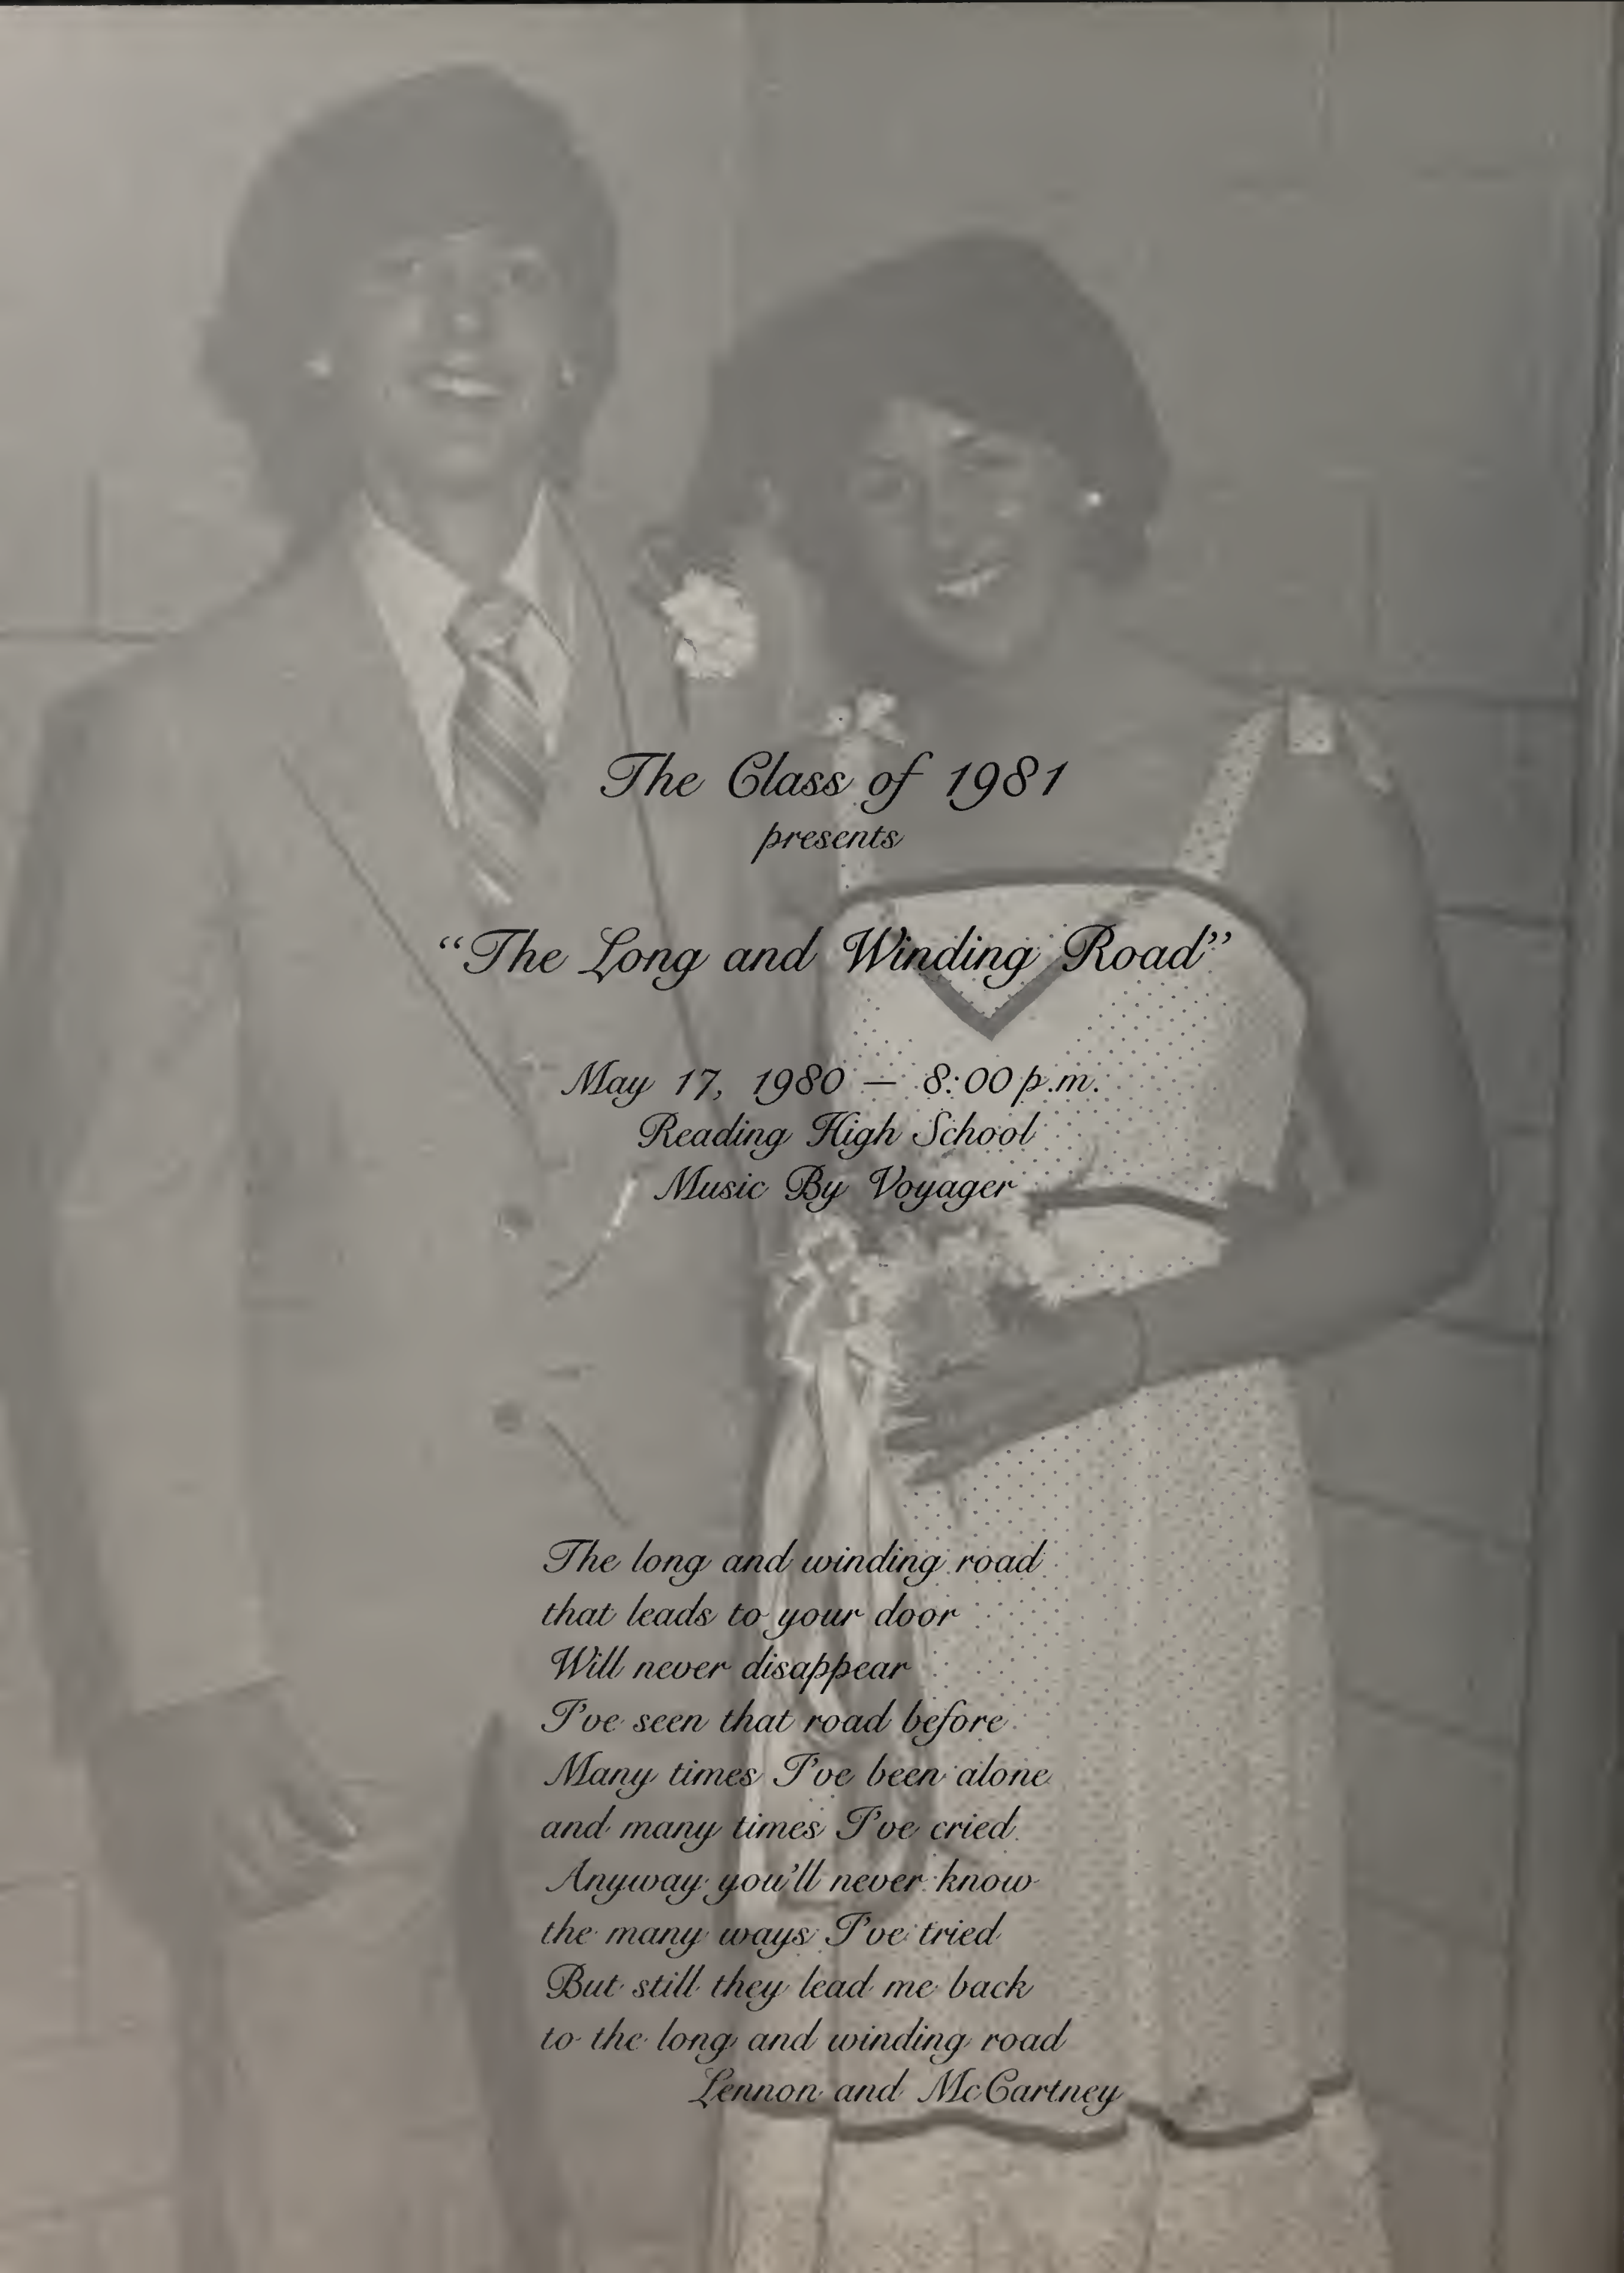

You also very early gained the reputation of being the most enterprising class ever. Blessed with a "Midas Touch," you had the uncanny ability to make money doing anything. In the process of making money, however, you managed to have a good time and develop a class consciousness — the real reason for class activities after all.

Before closing, I'd like to thank particularly the four officers: Nancy, who managed to give me a few little jobs here and there; Roger, who kept me in a constant state of amazement; Ann Marie, who calmed me down when I got frazzled; and Peter, who gave the job of Class Advisor new meaning. You chose your officers well, for they truly represent the diversity of the whole class: serious and silly, responsible and rabid, creative and crazy and always different.

Thank you for keeping me young while making me age; for making me smile while holding back tears; and for maintaining my faith in young people while screaming: "Who talked me into this?"

Lots of luck and love to you all. I anticipate great things from you.

The long and winding road
that leads to your door
Will never disappear
I've seen that road before
Many times I've been alone
and many times I've cried
Anyway you'll never know
the many ways I've tried
But still they lead me back to the long and winding road

CLASS HISTORY

In September of 1977 the graduating classes of Parker and Coolidge were united not only as a class, but to share in the anxiety of what lay ahead. To lead us through our first year, we chose Cathy Hale as president, Roger Mumper as vice-president, Jennifer Walsh as secretary and Kevin Downey as treasurer. Under the direction of Ms. Kaman, we became the first freshman class in recent years to be successful in financial endeavors . . . Although saddened by the loss of Mr. Castine and our principal, Mr. Karakashian, we were able to adapt to our new environment . . . snowed under with work and the Blizzard of '78, we finally mastered our schedules, experimented with the choices we might have to make in the mandatory Decisions I course, and tried to rise above the embarassment of hearing, "It must be a freshman!"

As we moved into our sophomore year, we were faced with many transitions . . . Mr. D'Orlando headed the new administration, aided by the scurrying footsteps of Ms. Sellers . . . new attendance policies and stricter rules were enforced, perhaps in an attempt to combat the evils of the "Sophomore Slump" . . . and of course, we all benefited from Decisions II, designed specifically to help us with our career choices . . . Nancy Littlehale and Elaine Annese in the offices of president and vice-president took over the running of class activities such as bake sales, car washes and "Make Your Own Sundae" day with the help of secretary Ann Marie McCarron and treasurer Kathy Savage . . . at the end of the year when our dream of becoming upperclassmen was a reality, we were forced to say good-bye to our advisor, Ms. Kaman.

The beginning of our junior year marked a time of greater freedom and still more changes. We were no longer burdened by the restraints of assigned studies; we were challenged to solve our dilemmas in the last of the Decisions sequence . . . Dan Reed designed a new mural in an attempt to cheer up the cafeteria ladies, and the school was graced with the unexpected construction of a new entrance to the math wing . . . The Iran Crisis exploded in November, January brought promises of a new decade, and the U.S. Hockey Team defeated the Russians, capturing the Gold at Lake Placid . . . Our new class advisor, Mrs. Messina, joined the officers Nancy Littlehale, Roger Mumper, Kathy Savage, and Ann Marie McCarron is planning class activities ranging from "Send a Card From the Heart" to our Junior Prom, "The Long and Winding Road", at which Nancy Anderson was named Prom Queen.

When our senior year arrived in the fall of 1980, we had already become well-acquainted with the routine and not-so-routine of R.M.H.S. . . . Ms. Lanouette led the class with the aid of Nancy Littlehale, Roger Mumper, Ann Marie McCarron and Peter Chisolm as our officers . . . Fall activities included a temporary switch of gender for several who attended Girl's Night Out . . . followed by the delivery of Betty Lou and her fellow Pumpkins to Mr. Mosc's lawn . . . or was it Mr. Hollingsworth's . . . or . . . The next morning began a succession of tests — SAT's and Achievements . . . We were disappointed with the results of the November elections: Anderson won at R.M.H.S. but Reagan won nationally . . . and then Prop 2½ (@#$% ¢&●) . . . Later that month our spirits rose as Ann Marie McCarron was crowned Football Queen . . . In December we got a headstart on Broadway with our own version of Sweeney Todd . . . At the conclusion of 1980 we were shocked and saddened with the news of John Lennon's death . . . As 1981 arrived, we celebrated knowing it was our year . . . January proved to be an incredible month. The twentieth was marked not only by Reagan's Inauguration, but was a day America had long awaited — finally our fifty-two hostages were free! Yellow ribbons united the nation . . . The end of first semester brought about a serious case of Senioritis (we were all in critical condition). We sought a cure through the production of Jesus Chris Superstar, Pizza Pigout, Carnation Day, Senior Talent Night, and rejoiced at college acceptances. Soon enough, we found ourselves in our last week, reminiscing about the experiences and friendships of the past twelve years, and growing ever closer through the celebrations — the Banquet, Class Day, the Prom and finally, June 7, 1981.

Feelings newly found
Fly
But remember
Don't look down
Take as much as you think you ought to Give just as much as you can
Don't forget what your failures have taught you
Or else you'll have to learn them all over again."

I spent my senior year of high school living in Aabenraa a town in the south of Denmark near the German border. I cannot say that is was the easiest year of my life. In fact at times it was downright frustrating. It was however, also filled with excitement and I will never forget all of the wonderful friends I made.

The most important barrier for me to overcome was the language. This was difficult but by mid-December I could speak Danish fluently. In fact, I will never forget how, shortly after I began speaking only Danish, I had trouble speaking English.

During the year I lived with the Hoiers. They have two other children, one of whom lived at home. While she and I developed an especially close relationship, they have all become a real family to me.

As I prepared to leave, I looked forward to coming home again and seeing all of my old friends and family, but I was aware that I would certainly miss Denmark and all the wonderful experiences I had there.

Lisa Snyder
USA — Denmark 1980-1981

The American Field Service gave me the opportunity to experience a different lifestyle and become a part of a new family, this summer in Mantgum, Holland (The Netherlands).

Thirty-five other students and I arrived in Holland anxiously awaiting meeting our new families. At first it was a bit awkward, but the Dutch people are all very friendly and many can speak English, a fact which eased our anxieties.

My host parents, Cobie and Rommert Tjeerdsma were helpful, and we had many wonderful times together. They helped me learn about their language and culture which is different from ours in many ways.

I feel lucky to have had this learning experience. Without the help of my family, my host parents, new friends, and A.F.S., it would not have been possible. My sincere thanks to all of them.

Jennifer Walsh
USA — Holland Summer of 1980

As an A.F.S. student in Reading this past year, I had the very special opportunity to learn. I learned about a culture and a language very different from my own. I saw how differently people in the U.S. think and feel about the same things.

I met people in many situations and found that one can make friends wherever he may go. I discovered that young people everywhere must work hard to attain their goals. I learned much about myself, who I am and what I want from this world.

I learned about the happiness and joy of sharing a home. My American family, whose daughter had been with A.F.S. in Denmark, have also profited from our time together. I am very grateful that they and A.F.S. have given me this experience.

Hana Hataka
Jordan — U.S.A. 1980-1981

The school year thus far has been the greatest year of my life. I have never done so many things, or experienced and learned so much in one year before.

I clearly remember the doubts and worries I had before leaving for the United States. But everything turned out to be much easier than expected. The major reason for that was that I was made to feel very comfortable in my new home with the Hall family. Their love, understanding, patience, and trust was the foundation of my great year. Sharing this year with them was the most rewarding and important part of my A.F.S. experience.

The participation in R.M.H.S. was the other major part of my experience. Reading Memorial High School is different from my school in West Germany. The emphasis in American education is on a well rounded student rather than on an exclusive academic field.

The general variety of courses and club activities gave me the opportunity to do things I never did before. Participating in several club activities gave me the chance to meet all different kinds of people, become acquainted with styles of living, and make many friends.

As a result of this past year spent in Reading, I gained many insights into my own country, the United States, others, and myself.
To all who shared their lives with me, I can only say thank-you. The most difficult part of my year is still ahead. That is leaving — it will hurt. But that too is a part of the A.F.S. experience.

The American Way Of Life

What is it?

We see it as ways of life. Not one way, but many. Like individuals. Each with their own distinct goal, life style, likes and dislikes, needs and wants.

That's the real American way of life. And the insurance industry helped protect it for hundreds of years. By individualizing products to help people protect their prized possessions — car, home or business. Or an income — so when laid-up, the cash is there to help maintain a life style. Even a life — so a family unit can maintain its way of life after the catastrophic loss of the family head.

We're a business of people helping people preserve their ways of life.

That's our bag. What's yours? If it's helping people and you want to get involved, talk to American Mutual.

Call our Personnel Department for a glimpse at our way of life.
